It is my pleasure to welcome you to Preston for the 110th Annual Conference of the Society of Legal Scholars.

Fittingly for a conference at the University of Central Lancashire, which is itself located at the central point of the British mainland, the theme of this year’s conference is Central Questions about Law. There are thus three main plenary sessions addressing a variety of such Questions; the first plenary, Central Questions about the Creation, Development and Reform of Law is followed logically by the subject matter of the second plenary, Central Questions about the Implementation, Application and Practice of law. The third plenary addresses questions central to the very purpose of the Society, Central Questions about Legal Education, Scholarship and Research. I am delighted that we have attracted such a tremendous range of expert and distinguished speakers for each of these plenaries, one hidden theme of the list of speakers being that virtually all of them have significant if not always obvious connections with Preston or Lancashire. If you have read my previous comments in the Society’s Reporter about Lancashire and Tolkien, you may be disappointed not to see a Hobbit somewhere in the list but it is worth keeping an eye open for surprises during the conference!

The core of the conference remains the 28 subject sections. Jamie Lee has again worked miracles in co-ordinating all these subject sections and liaising with all the subject convenors to put together a tremendous programme. I would like to record my thanks and appreciation both to Jamie and also to all the subject section convenors plus of course to all those contributing papers.

The main conference runs from Tuesday lunchtime until Friday afternoon but as has now become customary, it is preceded on the Monday/Tuesday by the Graduate Conference which this year has been expertly organised by my colleague Dr Ian Turner to whom I am most grateful. We are also very happy to be able to host, on the Tuesday morning, as in previous years, the Annual Seminar of the British Association of Comparative Law. I am very pleased that this year we have been able to schedule, for the first time since 2016, a Birks Book prize session in the Thursday tea-time slot when last year’s winner, Dr Nimer Sultany, will be discussing his prize-winning book. There is also an early careers session on the Tuesday tea-time, Wednesday lunchtime sees a new session organised by the Society’s EDI Committee “A vision for an inclusive SLS” and Thursday lunchtime has a Judicial Appointments session. Finally, the Friday afternoon Brexit session, dare I say it, remains a fixture for those who don’t have to leave before then, and promises to be particularly interesting and lively.

Notwithstanding the packed programme summarised above, there will be ample opportunity for that most important aspect of conference life whereby delegates can interact and engage with one another in the new social space which also houses the publishers’ exhibition. We are extremely grateful for the support, financial and otherwise, of the publishers and exhibitors. There are also of course a number of social events scheduled, starting with the complimentary publishers’ drinks reception on the Tuesday evening and ticketed events each evening including the Annual Dinner (kindly sponsored by OUP) on the Wednesday evening. I am grateful to many colleagues here at the University of Central Lancashire both centrally and in the Law School for their great support in planning and executing this conference. Within the Society, I would like to express my gratitude to all the Officers and Members of Executive for their unstinting support during my year of office. We are as ever most appreciative of the excellent administrative support that we have received from Sara Bladon and Sally Thomson (and more recently from Rosa Bladon). Sadly, this will be Sally’s last conference as it coincides with her retirement from her role of Administrative Secretary after nearly two decades of dedicated and expert service for which we are pleased to have the opportunity to show our immense gratitude during the conference. This is the second SLS conference to be organised by Mosaic Events and I would like to thank their team and in particular Libby Edison who has worked so efficiently and tirelessly, over a period of more than 18 months, to ensure that this conference is a success.

In conclusion, I hope that you will all have a stimulating and enjoyable time at the conference here in Lancashire (but watch out for those Hobbits!).

Richard Taylor
President of the Society of Legal Scholars (2018/19)

GENERAL INFORMATION

DRINKS AND DINNER TICKETS
All the social events, except for the Welcome Drinks Reception, are ticketed. You must have your ticket with you (if you have booked, your ticket will be handed out with your badge). If you do not already have a ticket and would like to attend any of the social events, please see the staff at the Registration and Enquiries Desk as early as possible.

PUBLIC TRANSport & CAR PARKING
UCLan is conveniently situated within walking distance of Preston railway station. If you are arriving on foot from the train station, exit from the station’s main entrance, turn right and then left down Corporation Street to Ringway. Cross Ringway at the lights, turn right, then take first left down Corporation Street (shops including Aldi on your left). Straight ahead and follow signs to the University.

Preston Bus Station is a 15 minute walk to the campus. The number 31 bus service runs every 15 minutes from the bus station to the University campus.

If arriving by car the university is well sign posted, however please note parking is not available at the university. There are spaces available (pay and display) at a number of central carparks, one conveniently located carpark is Walker Street Carpark, North Street, Preston PR1 2RQ.

MOBILE PHONES
Out of courtesy to speakers and other delegates, mobile phones should be switched off or on silent mode before entering sessions.

WIFI
Complimentary WIFI is available throughout the conference venue. To access the guest WIFI please select UCLanOpen network and follow the steps. Academic delegates can also log in to Eduroam in the usual way.

During the conference, you can follow @SLSPreston2019 on Twitter. Please help broadcast the Conference by posting your comments and photos with the hashtag #SLSPreston19.

SLS WEBSITE
The SLS website is: www.legalscholars.ac.uk and the conference website, including the Paperbank can be accessed from it (click on conference on the menu bar) or directly at https://www.slsconference.com/ from here click on the programme tab.

LUGGAGE STORE
Luggage can be stored next to the Harrington Refectory in the Bistro area. This is an open area and is not secure. The area is located next to the security office. All items are left at the owner’s risk and neither University of Central Lancashire, the SLS nor Mosaic Events accept responsibility for personal belongings.

Those staying in the Premier Inn and Legacy International hotels may wish to leave their luggage at the hotel on the morning of departure if travelling by train, as this is en-route to the station.

DELEGATE BADGES
For security purposes, please always wear your delegate badges.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE
Please go to the SLS Registration and Enquiries Desk on the ground floor of the Harrington Social Space if you have any queries. For serious emergencies you can phone the Event Team: +44 (0) 7702 495847. Please do not abuse this facility.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

To mark the eminent scholarship to be found among our membership, the Society Subject Sections invite keynote speakers to the conference. These scholars provide an important focus for the subject sections by presenting their work, engaging with, and being challenged by other scholars (especially those at an earlier stage of career). The SLS is grateful to the following keynote speakers who have accepted the invitation to this conference and we look forward to their contributions.

In a departure from tradition, we will not be adopting a theme for the 2020 conference. This is to enable as wide a range of legal scholarship as possible to be presented and discussed in the subject sections.

In a further change to the usual order, instead of holding a separate PhD conference we will be replacing one of the plenaries with a special session for PhD students to present their work. The aim is to bring PhD students into the heart of the conference, and all delegates will be encouraged to attend and support those at the start of their academic careers. PhD students are of course also very welcome to submit papers to any of the existing sections.

All of the venues will be situated on the university’s Streatham campus. This is an attractive 300-acre estate overlooking the city, with excellent facilities and plenty of green places to explore. The plenaries, publishers’ exhibition, and subject sections will be held in the Forum, a wonderful space that allows plenty of scope for social interaction (and which featured in ITV’s Broadchurch). Reasonably priced accommodation will be available close at hand in Holland Hall, which has stunning views of the Exe valley. Social events will also be held on campus, to ensure that they are as accessible as possible to all. There will be a reception and barbecue on the Tuesday evening, dinner in the Great Hall on the Wednesday, and a quiz with a fish-and-chips supper on the Thursday. And of course, no trip to Exeter would be complete without a traditional Devon cream tea (cream first, jam second!).

The campus is just a 10-minute walk from the main station, Exeter St David’s, from where there are regular and direct services to London and Birmingham. There is also a regular bus service to Exeter airport, with direct flights from London City, Aberdeen, Belfast, Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Leeds/Bradford, Manchester, Newcastle, and Norwich. For those planning to drive, Exeter is linked by the M5 to the Midlands and South Wales, and by the M5/M4 and the A303/M3 to London and the Southeast.

The campus is only a 20-minute walk from Exeter city centre. For anybody wanting to take some time out to explore this beautiful and historic city, there will be a legal-themed walk and a trip to the cathedral. And for the particularly energetic there will be a run/jog along the River Exe and its historic quayside.

Further information about the 2020 conference will be available on the conference website in due course, and registration will open in May 2020. I very much look forward to welcoming you to Exeter next year!
